Editorial.

Fockham Hall Times

Greetings from Fockham Hall, now the fourth smallest country in the world – unless you know differently!

People declaring their home as a country is really catching on! Citizenship is a contract that's forced upon us at birth, we don't have a choice in the matter. Therefore it's better to be head of state of your own country than a citizen in a country, such as Britain, that's run by a criminal bunch of Psychopaths.

Giving ourselves royal names and titles is an excellent way of demoting the royal family. We are led to believe Mad Lizzy is the Queen because an invisible weirdy beardy man in the sky said so! If that's not bovine excrement, I don't know what is!

We are supposed to bow and humble ourselves to the royals. I believe they are a bunch of freaky inbreeds. The royals have the best P.R money can buy, that's how they survive. It is my belief If people knew the truth about the royals they would probably leg it out of this country quicker than a greyhound with a rocket up its rear! If we all declare ourselves as royal, that makes the royals commoners!

Even if they put a polling booth outside my house, sorry I mean country, I still wouldn't vote!

To me the House of Commons is a place where ugly people, usually psychopaths, on an ego trip give the illusion they are running the country.

In reality the civil service runs the country and the banking families with their financial fraud secretly dictates to the country.

Therefore it's wrong to call Government members of the House of Conmen, sorry I mean Commons, politicians.

What Britain needs is Whoopee cushions filled with gravy on selective seats in the House of Commons!

Successive government politicians are really illusionists whose job has always been to cunningly extort money out of us to pay off a debt to their banking chums that doesn't exist!!

Wouldn't it be marvellous if someone placed whoopee cushions, filled with gravy, on selective seats in the House of Commons!

They wouldn't do that in the House of Lords as the members are so geriatric they wouldn't notice any difference!

We are now told that Middle Eastern Men wearing bedsheets, whose wives dress as Darth Vader are carrying out naughty acts of terrorism, I don't think so!

The 24/7 news coverage of the Paris false outrage has a lot in common with the propaganda prior to World War One, history repeats itself!

In true Fockham Hall style there's a false flag souvenir special on pages 4 and 5.

Most psycho politicians appear to have a mental age that matches their shoe size! They like to be important. A way of taking them off their pedestal is to laugh at them and reveal truth via humour.

Keep laughing,

Finance News.

Invest in Toilet Paper!

Get in now whilst the going is good!

As people in the West soil themselves worrying about terrorism and WWII, sales of toilet paper are going through the roof!

Government agencies are also stockpiling toilet paper.

A Westminster insider told us: "Many politicians are also soiling themselves whilst desperately making up laws to prevent people discovering the truth.

They can't stop an increasing number of people finding out about the South African nuclear bomb fraud.

A politician allegedly syphoned off a considerable sum of money into a UK political party and an innocent scientist, who knew too much, was allegedly "Suicided!"

People are also finding out about the Finchley Road money laundering scam, where dirty money allegedly finances several UK political parties."

The insider went on to say: "Politicians involved in the alleged frauds now spend a lot of their time in the toilet!

In an emergency, Westminster staff often knock on the toilet door saying, "Please come out, there's a crisis out here!" The reply is normally, "There's a crisis in here as well!"

The German Kaiser had a bigger battleship than Britain's King George's! It was a whopper!

False Flag Outrage Souvenir Special. History of False Outrages.

Queen Victoria often thought she was a table, hence reason she had a tablecloth and sugar bowl balancing on her head.

She was also worried about the size of The Kaiser's weapon, she couldn't handle it!

Hitler wasn't only The Chancellor of Germany he was a very naughty boy!

1890's to 1914

Whilst Queen Victoria was on the throne the Kaiser had better kinky leather boots than she had and she was none too pleased about it!

The Royals got together with their banking chums and decided to start a war. A war is much more fun than fox hunting. It makes banks and the Royals shed loads of money and it has the added bonus of killing lots of those nasty poor people!

The only problem was how to get Britain's nasty poor people to fight Germany's nasty poor people?

The answer was very simple. The banks owned the phoney democratic government and owned the newspapers (Rothschild's own Reuters).

The press started inventing and printing anti-German propaganda and the gullible people of Britain believed it! Around two decades later, come 1914 when King George was on the throne, people were fired up by the press and keen to go and kill those nasty Germans. Success! All based upon a pack of lies!

In addition to kinky boots, The Kaiser could grow a better moustache than Queen Victoria, she wasn't amused!

1938 Munich Crisis

In 1933 that jolly chap Hitler came to power in Germany. He told the corrupt banks where they could stick their usury scam!

He then had the audacity to print his own honest debt free currency! Germany went from economic bust to boom almost overnight! Unemployment, poverty and homelessness disappeared!

The banksters were horrified and threw a tantrum! An economic boycott of Germany in 1933 hadn't worked! The Banksters feared losing control of their corrupt fraudulent debt based empire!

Naughty Hitler had to be destroyed so the banksters did what they did before. They owned the Government and media so they hurriedly made up nasty things about Mr Hitler and those ghastly Germans!

The gullible British public believed it and come 1939 the masses were keen to go and kill those nasty Germans. Success! Again, all based upon a pack of lies!

Fockham Hall Times

For the banksters that were not forced to fight in it, the Vietnam War was much more fun than baseball!

1964 Vietnam

The Bay of Tonkin incident

The Banksters financed Communism and Capitalism but had a problem.

They wanted to make even more money whilst killing lots of nasty American poor people! The banksters desperately needed a nice juicy long term war. Vietnam seemed a good place to start one.

The problem was how they could convince the gullible American public they were in danger of being taken over by oriental men on bicycles who eat rice and live a long way from America. Bit difficult eh!

No problem, Banks dictated to the phoney democratic government and owned mainstream media so decided to invent an outrage that never happened!

The Bankster owned media told the gullible American public that nasty oriental men on bicycles, who eat rice, had been very naughty. They had fired upon an innocent American ship that just happened to be in The Bay of Tonkin, off the Vietnamese coast, listening into those oriental men ordering their chicken fried rice with noodles! It has since been officially admitted the incident was a CIA hoax!

Shock, horror, outrage. The American public were instantly convinced those naughty oriental men were out to take over America! The banksters had achieved their objective and America went to war based upon a complete pack of lies.

2001 to Present.

War on non-existent Terrorism.

Naughty countries that have lots of oil sloshing about such as Iraq and Libya economically did what naughty Hitler did and JFK tried to do. They printed their own debt free currency!

Thus bringing prosperity to their citizens.

Oil rich Syria and Iran also print their own debt free currency.

The banksters were desperate to destroy countries printing their own debt free currency and needed to make even more money out of a long term war.

The answer was simple! Use false flag terrorism as an excuse to invade those countries!

The CIA and Israel destabilise the Middle East by secretly funding and training mercenaries to overthrow legitimate countries and create a refugee crisis!

Western Government operatives then carry out atrocities on their own people, blaming the outrages on terrorists from the countries to be invaded! The bank owned media then hype the populous into a frenzy of hate and fear! The ignorant masses then support military action!

So there we have it, 9/11 was a massive insurance fraud and an inside job. The London bombings and recent Paris outrage have all the hallmarks of inside jobs.

The west is now going to war that's, as usual, based upon a pack of lies.

Together we can cure G.P.S.

Sufferers of G.P.S (Government Propaganda Syndrome) only believe what the government tells them via the BBC or the controlled mass media. If you meet a G.P.S sufferer remember to speak slowly. Don't use words longer than marmalade as it will confuse them. The condition rapidly diminishes intelligence and understanding of fact based evidence.

Sadly no-hope cases give a smug grin and accuse you of being a Conspiracy Theorist. Please be sympathetic of their condition.

Friends Of Fockham Freedom.

Fockham is an independent country surrounded by Zionist occupied United Kingdom.

*It is probably one of the smallest countries in the world. The BBC continues to broadcast alleged subversive propaganda, intended for the entire Zionist occupied United Kingdom. This air wave pollution can accidentally be tuned into in Fockham.
Listening to it can affect mental health.
Despite complaints the BBC has the audacity to want payment to enable them to continue polluting the air-waves!
This must stop, we need your support.*

The BBC has chronic
“Government Propaganda Syndrome.”

News teams and news
readers wander around in a zombie like state.

They regurgitate information from the government like a parrot.
They are unable to think for themselves.

We must find a cure for G.P.S.

Sick Party Games.

Very Macabre initiation fun for deviant psychopaths everywhere!

Todger in Pig Head.

Could this allegedly be the UK's beloved leader in his youth?

Pecker up the Rear.

According to a "Mistress" one of her clients is now a very well known senior politician. Allegedly he liked being whipped. Nowadays, I'm sure there's no shortage of people keen to whip him free of charge!

The senior politician also allegedly spoke of some very mentally sick and cruel initiations whereby a young live pidgin's head was shoved up someone's backside!

Again, nowadays I feel sure Instead of a live pidgin's head there would be no shortage of people keen to shove a red hot poker up his rear end. Handle first so he burns his hands getting it out!

For legal reasons we are not allowed to say who the politician is but the book "Whipping up a Storm" by Natalie Rowe is worth reading.

Thought of the Day Competition.

Did you know Stalin once said the following:

"The easiest way to gain control of the population is for the state to carry out acts of terror. The public will clamour for draconian laws if their personal security is threatened."

History repeats itself. Have you joined the dots yet?

If you DON'T suffer from G.P.S. (please see opposite page) it will be glaringly obvious.

If you DO suffer from very mild G.P.S. (please see opposite page) perhaps the image on the left may give you a clue!

The Wherethefukarwe Tribe.

Long before the Romans invaded Britain, the Wherethefukarwe tribe were a race of very short people. They lived in an area of very long grass. The tribe had a terrible sense of direction.

After a day of hunting in the long grass, the tribe had a strange ritual. They would get on each others shoulders to form a human pyramid. The man at the top would scan the horizon, then shout "WHERETHEFUKARWE!"

The tribe lived near another tribe called the "Whothefukaryou." They didn't like strangers!

Nobody knows what happened to the Wherethefukarwe tribe but scientists believe their descendants are now working on cheap Chinese Sat-Navs that send you in the wrong direction!

Could Eric Pickles Flatulence be Responsible for Global Warming and Tsunamis?

Eric Pickles MP is allegedly causing a bit of a stink!

Ministers are worried that if he eats Brussels Sprouts the entire parliament building may have to be evacuated.

An insider said, "The strength of his flatulence could lift the varnish off a coffee table!"

Eric Pickles MP allegedly clears the street after breaking wind!

Government backed alleged false charities and alleged phoney foundations are now being set up to make the public feel guilty for global warming that in reality doesn't exist.

Scientists are allegedly hurriedly being bribed to produce bogus climatic charts to frighten the public into paying more taxes to make the banks richer and save the planet. In reality the planet is fine the real problem is the banks!
